

Give it to yourself

Money & Joyful Living

Telephone Conference Course With Diana Vela

Wednesdays, beginning Sept. 17th, 7 to 9 PM Central Time 10 weekly sessions, 2 hour sessions each.

You want an abundant flow of money?
You want prosperity in every area of your life?
You want joyful living in your life?
You want to live a life pure to the expression of your soul?

To get to this place, we will be doing some deep and comprehensive in-depth study and work on you and your relationship with money, as well as discover how little you know about this phenomenon we call money and how affected you are by the consciousness of the past, as well as the consciousness of those in your world regarding money. We will open to the flow of creation and abundance, but that alone is not enough, that doesn't necessarily mean you will be able to tap into it, or if you do, maintain it, and maximize it to grow, in resonance to the highest in yourself. There is much to be learned about the abstraction and flow of money, much to awaken to being conscious of and aware of all facets of money in life to clearly take the appropriate actions as the flow presents itself. It is vital we are crystal clear on how we stand on money, as well as the ability to bring consciousness and integrity in life regarding all areas of money. Most of us walk around unconscious about money, living in illusions or fog about it, maybe even falling victim to the scarcity of it while also feeling helpless, maybe even hopeless about it.

The purpose of this course is to open your heart, your eyes, your aware intelligence, and your life in a conscious manner to skillfully receive and naturally build and maintain the constant flow of money in your life. For what purpose? To give you the freedom to express pure love and joy that resides inside your heart and soul. To enjoy the beauty of your life and this planet and be there to be and do as you were born to experience. To live in the natural flow of abundance, expressing the natural joy within, being always your unique reflection of beauty and love, for that is who we are.

This is our aim, this is our direction as we come together in this course. My request is that you fully be committed to this purpose as you embark into the course. Plan on expanding, curiously and profoundly learning and working deeply and completely during the 10 weeks of this course. If we all come together in this way, this will be the most profound journey of your life.

Money & Joyful Living

Of importance if you choose to participate in this course:

It is vital you come to the course ready to maximize the gifts and value of this course by participating in every way, most especially, comprehensively doing the weekly assignments given, no matter how busy, how lazy you are feeling, or how much resistance you are experiencing.

It is important that you be on the call on time for every session as well as attend every session with the exception of a life and death circumstance.

This is a course like you have never taken... this is the time to finally give up all judgments during the course and in your life while you are taking this course. I promise, the more responsibility you take in co-creating the results of the course with me and your fellow participants, the more you remain open and available in the course and in life during the 3 months of the course, the more space you will be creating for amazing changes and miracles for you and your fellow participants and for me as the facilitator of the course.

To get the maximum results, you have to be committed like never before to the results, to participate fully within the group, and be passionate about doing and completing your 'money and joyful life' home assignments. If you participate in this way in all the sessions, as well as with all assignments, including bringing the highest in you in a state of open curiosity and ultimate integrity in deep respect for yourself and fellow participants, you will produce phenomenal results in the area of money and joyful living.
